1 Introduction

This document describes how to integrate and configure menu entries (a maximum of four) in IBM Notes. When a menu entry is clicked, an action in Fabasoft Folio is called, and the selected e-mail is passed to the action as a parameter.

2 Software Requirements

System environment: All information contained in this document implicitly assumes a Microsoft Windows environment.

Supported platforms: For detailed information on supported operating systems and software see the software product information on the Fabasoft distribution media.

Descriptions in this document are based on the following software:

- IBM Notes 9.0

Note: Make sure that the Fabasoft Folio Client

(`Setup\ComponentsBase\Client\FolioClient.msi`) is installed on the work station.

3 Installation

To be able to use the IBM Notes menu entries, the following MSI package has to be installed on the client:

`Setup\ComponentsBase\Client\FolioClientNotes.msi`

4 Configuration

To configure which buttons are available you have to configure the CPThirdPartyControlsExternal customization point and choose LotusNotesMenuDefault as described in the "Predefined Customization Points" white paper.
